Collaborate

The smarter tool for sharing knowledge and intelligence.

Would you like a more efficient and effective way to store and access documents? Are you able to share content, review data and communicate online with both internal teams and external experts?

Every legal case involves a lot of paperwork. Collaborate creates a single online space where all this information can be accessed and uploaded with a click. This secure virtual legal environment can host a wealth of reference and case information. But as well as being a comprehensive library, you can get together to share and discuss information relevant to your business.

Collaborate is just one of the smart tools available from BLM Innovations and can provide key benefits to collaborative interactions, by:

- Allowing secure client online collaboration between clients and multiple parties on non-contentious and transactional matters
- Enabling secure access to a range of online reference and case information
- Providing support to complex projects, transactions and deal management (property transactions, for example) and can be used as a data room with multiple parties and roles
- Supporting all project, transaction and deal management requirements with automatic folder numbering when used
- Allowing allocation of access and permissions by role, and at folder and document level
- Providing a complete audit trail, usage reporting and document version control, allowing clients to upload documents and amendments.

Key features

- A single point of entry into multiple projects and sites
- PDF document security (watermarks, view only, print prevention)
- Hosting of static reference libraries, training content or feature-rich 'social media' environments, with blogs and interactive Q&A sessions
- Bulk uploads and downloads, including one click import and export to zip file
- A facility for auction sales to take place to manage a bidding process (useful for property deals).

Whilst many firms will offer similar tools, our clients value the fact that we can offer them a bespoke area for collaboration. For a number of our top clients we have created a space for them and their contacts at BLM to work together in many different ways: sharing content, reviewing data and communicating.
