The smarter tool for legal communication.

Would you like a more efficient way of handling matters and conferences, and reduce your spend on travel costs at the same time? Would you like the ability to gauge witnesses and experts without the need to meet in person? Do you struggle to arrange face to face conferences in a timely manner, or would you like a video record of conferences held?

Communication is everything in law, and Forum is the digital conferencing tool that can put everything – and everyone – at your fingertips. Accessed via desktop computer, laptop, tablet or smartphone, it offers video links with anyone involved in a case. But Forum also enables the sharing of online material and a number of document formats, which can be edited live in the meeting. On the one hand, Forum cuts down on travel to meetings, but on the other, it lets you cover a lot more ground.

Forum is just one of the smart tools available from BLM Innovations and can provide key benefits to collaborative interactions, by:

- Eradicating the need to travel for non-court or investigatory meetings, therefore reducing overall spend on a matter in respect of both internal meetings, and external meetings with counsel and expert witnesses
- Delivering time savings by agreeing documents during a conference without the need to send out documents multiple times
- Providing a more sophisticated, efficient way of progressing matters within the lifetime of a case.

Key features

- Single conference platform for multiple internal and external attendees
- Live annotation of shared documents allows documents to be changed during the conference
- Virtual whiteboards and blackboards enable collaborative notetaking or diagram creation
- Enables sharing of web pages, for example Google Street View, in a live environment to enable the pinpointing of accident locations
- Operates on a mobile phone or desktop computer
- Recording and saving feature enables the conference to be reviewed at a later date, in line with GDPR guidelines
- Can be used in a number of different scenarios such as interviewing witnesses or collaborating with experts.
